CONCERNING A TRIP TO RYECROFT AND SPIRIT RIVER

On Wednesday of last week it was my pleasure to take a trip to Rycroft and Spirit River with my friend Tom Clarke, blackman for the Cuckoo Plant Company in the Peace River.

The weather looked none too certain and advance information told us that the road was none too good. However, the pilot was willing to take a chance, and as he was to do all the work, I got into the car and we were away.

Years ago I took a trip up from the "soot" to Fort William on a ship called "The Empire" of the "Beatty" Line. As it was in May there were very few passengers, so I made bold to chat with Captain McNabb. Lake Superior was on the ramp, and I asked him if he was ever afraid. He replied: "No, when there is no fog, I have a good boat." Captain McNabb was one of the most careful pilots on the Lakes. After hearing this comforting statement I felt quite secure.

Now on this trip, the boat—being none other than a Ford V-8—was good and the pilot is one of the most careful drivers I have ever ridden with. To make a long story short, we arrived at Rycroft in good if not in record time.

As I was out to preach the gospel according to The Tribune, when the hour came was amply satisfied at a well-laid table in the Rycroft Hotel, I started on my rounds.

I had visited the important little centre many times, but this visit was the first of any length.

A trip to the elevators, of which there are three, revealed the fact that the average yield was good and the grade, considering the season, was quite satisfactory.

In one of the elevators there was a squirrel which was gradually becoming quite tame. It had its winter fur and as it sat up and enjoyed a meal of wheat it was just about the most interesting and beautiful little creature one could wish to see. I asked the man in charge if he thought of shooting the squirrel and I was very pleased when he replied: "Not me."

I have found if one wants to know a town or section of a country one must know the people, so I took the opportunity to chat with the various business men and the farmers who happened to be in town. As a result of this I have a better knowledge of the town and the part it is playing in distributing goods to this most fertile country. I also learned things I did not know about the adjacent area.

An interesting fact with the principal of the school, Mr. Paul, further made the visit enjoyable. I learned that there were about fifty children attending the school. Miss True-man is the other teacher. Everything about the school was good and clean. A large hall was on one side of the school. It is understood that this hall of one time belonged to a church.

After supper a trip was made to the farm of Emily and an excellent and well equipped and on which are good buildings. When we arrived Mr. Zehn and an assistant had just finished milking ten cows. It was suggested that it was quite dark, which prevented a further inspection of the farm.

Later a trip to Eker completed the day. We were accompanied on this trip by G. Luthaenge, better known as "Bohime," the Cuckoo agent at Rycroft, who is just about the best man this far north. Besides his other activities he runs a big general store at Eker, known as the "silverwood store."

I regret that the lateness of the hour prevented a visit to my old friend Jack Murray, who I was told, lived quite close.

When we arrived at the hotel it was only a few minutes when I was flirting with gravity and being full of plenty of oxygen, ozone and all the rest of it, I was soon dead to the world.

In the morning we visited Spirit River, where I spent the day continuing to preach the gospel according to The Tribune.

Here I met many friends, among them "Scotty" Cowan, "The Mighty Atom," who has charge of the garage. Not only did I meet him but "Scotty" invited me to dine with him in the evening, which invitation I readily accepted.

At Spirit River I learned that there was a very energetic committee of women which included a lady of Rycroft working raising money to further equip the hospital.

During the day I had the pleasure of meeting John Watson, a "Chili-wag" who owns about two sections of land near Spirit River. As Mr. Watson has been in the West for 37 years, I found the conversation most interesting, for few men have a broader knowledge of the country than he has. Notwithstanding the rather discouraging season, Mr. Watson, who lived on the Spirit River holdings for some time, is still a booster for the Peace

Some meetings of the commissions in former years and it is as it should be. The returned man is entitled to some courteous and fair treatment as anyone else in Canada.

The members of the Commission were: Major Crowe, Russell Spence, pensions advocate, Dr. McKenzie, H. Fitch, court stenographer.

The pensions advocate, in looking after the man's interests, was always on the job, and the Legion sure appreciated his work.

May all commissioners in the future adopt the same courteous policy. It will pay in the long run.

JUNIOR

It is to such an extent that one might almost say that he would never have achieved this astonishing speed unless he had been helped by aerodynamic experience. Apart from that, he himself was very good pilot during the War 1914-18, and probably in that way he acquired a mental attitude towards hundreds of miles an hour which he might never have got if he had remained on the ground as a mechanical transport officer or with his own Highlander, the Argyle and authorized in the first place.

His Blue Bird is a Rolls-Royce aero-motor of the type which was developed for the Schneider Trophy Contest, better known at home as the "Hush-flush" engine. It boasts that all the ancillaries and accessories, including carburetor, K.L.G. pump (K.L.G. is for Kenneth Lee Guinness, of Dublin stout fame), and all the other things which are so familiar to aviation people are the products of aerodynamic experience and experiment. Then the streamlining of the car itself was produced by experiment in wind tunnels which would probably never have been developed for other than aeronautical purposes. And even allowing that wind tunnel experiments may be unreliable, or even misleading, when directed entirely to discovering the lift and drag of airfoils, possibly by too intelligent operators, their results can be pretty well trusted when the results are merely to discover the head resistance of an ordinary streamlined body. Also let us remember that Sir Malcolm's wind tunnel was financed by Lord Wakefield, of Herts, who long ago was known as the Patron Saint of Aviation—so of course Sir Malcolm could hardly be the less the use of the wind tunnel, or of finance, he would not have used it on a job like that unless he had been satisfied that it was absolutely the right stuff. So what aerodynamic experience was to Sir Malcolm Campbell, Sir Malcolm Campbell also owes a great deal to aviation, and very much indeed to the very much bigger planes of the future. The huge tires on the Empire Airways biplane are produced by the Dunlop Company, who must necessarily learn something of their craft from Sir Malcolm Campbell's tires which they have made for so many of his record-making attempts. Now, having given "everybody concerned the free advertisement which they so richly deserve, let us discuss what this speed business really means. And if I have left anybody who deserves to share the publicity, I apologize to him, her, or it.

WHAT SPEED MEANS

Naturally the first thing that the anti-speed fanatic, or in fact any ordinary stupid John Citizen, says is that he can see no good in Sir Malcolm Campbell doing 300 m.p.h. because he himself is never likely to want to travel at 300 m.p.h. Moreover, says he, even if one could have motor cars which would do 300 m.p.h. there are few if any roads in Canada where the speed could be done. Even in Italy, which is the pioneer of "autostrada," on which one is fitted for listening when one does anything less than 80 m.p.h., 300 m.p.h. would be a bit above the limit, because the car would probably take off at the crest of every hill that was reached. That line of argument seems to me to evade the real point at issue.

The real point is not that one wants to travel at 300 m.p.h. but that one does want on the road a car which will accelerate from 30 m.p.h. to as near 300 m.p.h. as may be safe within the length of time it takes to reach the end of the visible straight. Long before the war, as I said recently, we had cars that did 30 m.p.h. on the road quite easily. In fact I used sometimes to drive a Talbot with a headlight body, built in 1912, which had six cylinders, 80 mm. by 120 mm.—about the nearest proportion which anybody has yet struck—and which it was eleven years old it was driven from Carfax, Oxford, to Hamersmith Broadway in 1 hour 12 minutes, which meant an average speed of 50 m.p.h.—as near as no matter—and there was no Great West Road in those days. There are not the small lot of cars that were built that time today. What we want in these days is a car that will come out of the red at 15 m.p.h. town limit, and be doing between 80 and 30 m.p.h. a few seconds afterwards. This is also valuable in that it is achieved by means of terrific acceleration and very little of the road is clear. Only by means of a reasonably good average on the road.

One of the newspapers published the other day a pleasing map showing what Sir Malcolm Campbell's 300 m.p.h. would mean if one did the speed straight-away between Ban Francisco and New York. It made America's fastest air service look like a bi-weekly train service. All that would be very pleasant and conducive to trade, but it is never likely to happen by any method of surface transport, unless some time or another some form of streamline vehicle is devised which will run between rails rather than on rails. In a truck built along our existing railways at colossal expense compared with which the laying of ordinary railways is a mere flea bite—or perhaps in these days of misanthropism one might say it would be the bite of a "Pog."

And that is just where air transport comes into its own.

DEAN OF SEXSMITH'S DOGS PASSES ON

Jerry Foote, a venerable dog of 15 years, passed away a few days ago. Jerry was born in Grande Prairie in 1919, and migrated to Sexsmith the following year, where he has resided ever since. According to his master, ever since the Bennett government has been in power Jerry's infirmities have increased, until death brought a happy release. He must have figured it was a dog's life, anyway, and the fear of another five years was too much for him. There is also the possibility that he had read Lloyd's report on the probable results of the election, and decided that it was a case of out of the frying pan into the fire. Jim McNaughton's dog now becomes the dean.

OLD-FASHIONED HALLOWEEN DANCE AT GRAND THEATRE

There will be a regular old-fashioned dance at the Grand Theatre on November 1. Good music in attendance, so come and have a good time.

EAGLESHAM NEWS

VOTERS EXERCISED FRANCHISE DESPITE BAD ROADS

EAGLESHAM, Oct. 22.—Election day is over and we wondered at the spirit of the people as we watched them come, unimpaired of the sleet and cold, on foot or horseback, in wagons and even in two-wheeled carts, all bent on registering a protest against existing conditions and striving to do their part in providing a remedy.

Well, the old rusty leathers are coming into their own once more, and feel mighty good these chilly mornings.

LOOKING FORWARD TO GOOD TIMES

Good times are coming. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Macleod have invested in a brand new Stewart-Warner long and short wave radio, from which they and their less fortunate friends derive real pleasure and entertainment.

LURED BY DISTANT PLACES

The lure of distant places has "got" Charlie Reid again, and he is leaving shortly for San Francisco, which he will explore to his heart's content for three months.

NO ROAD WORK DISAPPOINTS MANY

Many, many disappointed comments are heard on all sides from those who expected to get a little grub stake out of road work. It seems most unfair that our roads should be neglected, but we expect the government has to conserve every penny for the payment of its dividends.

BACHELORS FLOCKING BACK

Four bachelors are flocking home to their winter quarters. Among those who arrived last week were: Frank Boulton, Joe Dumont, Pat Dyer, Otto Koch, Joe Jaberth, and Matt Pelky.

WORRIED BY MOBILIZATION OF "SWISS NAVY"

One of our boys is deeply concerned over the report that the "Swiss navy" is standing ready to defend its country. When things like that happen he is ready to join the colors any old time.

DEMOCRAT WRECKED

Hans Shaug had the misfortune to wreck his democratic last week. One of his horses, becoming incensed at a political speech being broadcast over the radio, decided to bolt for home, and destruction followed. Trouble also visited Welsh Bolder when one of his horses departed for the "happy hunting grounds."

VISITORS IN TOWN

Nurse Hugh was a visitor at O. Forget's over the week-end. Other visitors in town include Mr. and Mrs. W. Fisher of Enderby, who are visiting their son John, and Mrs. Dider.

WEDDING BELLS

A wedding of interest to Eaglesham was celebrated at the Catholic Church, Oct. 24. A dance sponsored by the Hoffman family, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman, was united in marriage to

Joseph Albert Audet, Eaglesham

The bride wore a charming picture in her gown of white crepe, with bouquet of lilies, orange blossoms and pink Star. She was attended by her sister, Miss Agnes Hoffman, who was daintily attired in blue crepe, with a crimson bouquet of pink and white sweet peas and ferns.

Tom Houleau of Eaglesham acted as best man, and the wedding march was rendered by Mrs. M. McKown. The groom's gift to the bride consisted of a beautiful flap-jack compact to the bridesmaid, crystal necklace and earrings, and to the best man a clip and gold chain.

Following the ceremony a delightful wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents, the rooms of which were gaily decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers and wedding bells, while a beautifully decorated wedding cake centered the breakfast table.

Late in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Audet left by car for Eaglesham and arrived here on October 8. Before leaving Cut Knife Mrs. Audet was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. They are now in residence at the quarter and Eaglesham wishes them every joy and happiness in the future.

SILVERWOOD

WEATHER AND CROP NEWS

SILVERWOOD, Oct. 19.—The old adage has its pen in his hand and got some news for the folks. We have had some very disagreeable weather. Rain has been held for two weeks now, and then rain, and then rain. Hoping this change of weather is in its best mood, as today the wind is surely blowing, the sun shining and the roads drying up. If the weather continues good, we expect to resume threshing Monday or Tuesday. The crops are a little disappointing in yield, as the wheat is shrunken and some oats are light and partly frozen. The yields will be half, and there will be lots of green feed. The summer fallow seems to be doing well. The grain has been threshed 2, 3 and 4 for the last week. What wheat has been threshed 2, 3 and 4 for the last week. No damp, but a little touchy air.

SILVERWOOD STILL U. F. A.

The turnout at the Silverwood district poll was not very strong, as the weather was cold and the roads hardly passable. But give credit to the folks who go out of their lives to do their duty to the candidates, who are through with the election. The poll of day. Our district still has the U. F. A. standing of wins for the U. F. A. C. P. candidate, Mr. Kennedy. Mr. C. North was returning officer and Mrs. C. North secretary. W. Campbell was scrutineer, as also was Mr. Jack McBurnie. The poll was well conducted and in a real businesslike manner. Here's a handshake, boys.

BOX SOCIAL FOR XMAS TREE

The children are to have a box social in November for the kiddies' Christmas tree and concert. Never let the forgetful that Silverwood is noted for the large amount taken at the box socials for the treasury of the old home-widened Santa Claus. It is up to the folks to help the cause, so keep eyes open for the date in November.

GOLD PREVALENT

Some of the school children have had colds and Miss Platzer used good judgment in having them stay at home. The school of 12 is off their colds. It is better for the other children to have those with colds stay at home.

There was a large turnout of Silverwood folks at the Social Credit meeting in Enderby.

The elevator and stores at Silverwood are doing a little better business owing to some of the crop having been threshed. If this weather keeps up, I guess they will be going strong next week.

SEEN AND HEARD

Pleased to see Mr. Sales around and recovered from the broken leg he received at Enderby, since last summer. Mr. Sales is now wearing his boots out of the back and forward, looking up his grammar on the home-ward.

Mr. Jordan and Mr. Sales busy plowing as they are threshing.

L. Schaffner and H. B. Brunning are busy on their new houses. The school children have had their teeth taken care of by the dental clinic.

Resident Brunning was freed by the government hall one morning. Mr. Austin and Mr. Hindlebach went to her help when they heard her calling.

Mr. Winch, C.C.P. speaker, held a meeting at Taylor's store last week. Col. Edgart spoke for the Liberals Friday evening at Taylor's store.

DEMMITT NEWS

DEMMITT, Oct. 22.—David Broad has returned to his home at a few days, as he is not well, therefore could not work.

Milburn Henderson and Hans Skogness of Chesham arrived in our district yesterday for the winter months, glad to see these two jolly boys back again.

Rev. Geo. A. Shields of Beaver Lodge held service in the schoolhouse here last Sunday afternoon and though the attendance was small his sermon was greatly enjoyed by those who turned out. Hope to have the pleasure of hearing Mr. Shields again in the near future.

Graydon Sipe has gone back to Grande Prairie to finish up his threshing jobs with H. Went.

Friends of our old neighbor (Mrs. Jorgen Johnson), now of North Sex-smith, will be pleased to know she is recovering the use of her foot, which was so badly hurt in a runaway early this fall.

Congratulations are being sent to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bennett of Two Rivers, B.C., on the safe arrival of a young son. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett were residents of Demmitt for a number of years before moving to British Columbia.

ALONG THE WAPITI

By Junius
 ALONG THE WAPITI, Oct. 21.—Everything at a standstill in our district, due to the rain of last week, then a snowstorm Saturday night has delayed everything until some more. It looks like winter.

J. C. Maclean spent Thursday and Friday of last week in the Prairie, attending a meeting of the Pension Commission.

Mrs. Woods and Mrs. White were visitors of the Prairie last Saturday.

Harold Hasker and mother were visitors in the Prairie last week.

ANNUAL SCHOOL SUPPER

The annual supper of the Millerton School District will be held in the schoolhouse, on Saturday evening, October 26, followed by a lecture by W. D. Albright, on "Homecoming Days." All taxpayers welcome to supper, it is free. Also everyone will be welcome to the lecture. Let us all make an extra effort to attend this supper. Sponsored by the Ladies Institute and also the Millerton School District. It is one of the best get-togethers of the year.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

At a banquet attended largely by business women, to celebrate their independence, one of the toasts was punctuated wrongly on the card. It read "Woman without her man, is a brute." Instead of "Woman! Without her man is a brute." The toastmaster had a h-l of a time explaining. Of course he was a mere man.

Shades of Emma Panthurst! A woman named Mrs. Anne Smith, of Toronto, has written an open letter to the paper suggesting that there should be a law passed so a curfew would ring every night in cities of Canada at 9 p.m. and all women and young ladies would have to beat it home. Is it any wonder we have institutions like Ponk's?

EXTEND BEST WISHES

The best wishes of all the people of this district are extended to Mrs. Colin John, nee Elsie Hugel. May her married life be one of peace and happiness. To Colin we all extend our congratulations.

SHOWING "LEST WE FORGET"

Around the 21st of November, Frank Donald is putting on "Lest We Forget" in the Capitol Theatre, Grande Prairie. This picture is claimed to be one of the best war stories ever written. We do not know, but have heard the Dominion government has released official pictures to go with it, making a true but ghastly picture of what war really is, all in the interests of propaganda for peace on earth, because whoever sees this picture, if others are included, will never want any of their kind or kin to ever go again. Let everyone in this country go and see the terrible destruction wrought by war. Notice in papers, at theatre the 21st, 22nd and 23rd of November. Let all in this district make an attempt to be there on one of the above nights.

Congratulations also to Nick Schneider on the birth to Mr. and Mrs. Schneider of a baby boy. Although this is some two weeks ago, and old news by now, we must confess our not slipped and we did not know. Nick requires some six or eight men for mine work. He now has two of his own. In a few more years he will be independent of outside help.

R. Mogenson, trapper on the Wapiti, is returning to his cabin for the winter.

"Mac" Maclean and wife returned to their home on the Wapiti and are digging in for the winter.

We believe quite a few of the returned men of the Dismale and Wapiti district are attending the Hythe Legion banquet on Armistice night.

WEMBLEY NEWS

HAZELMERE NEWS

(Received by Friday's mail)

HAZELMERE, Oct. 17.—We are sorry to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Robinson and send Pearl deepest sympathy in her great loss.

We are glad to know Mrs. Ducharme is home again from Grande Prairie Municipal Hospital, where she went under an operation, and wish her a speedy recovery.

A lot of the grain is still in the stock here, unable to be stacked on account of wet weather. There will be very little threshing done, as the grain is so poor it will not pay to thresh.

Once more voting is done with and we can settle down again, hoping to goodness something good will turn up.

C.G.I.T. Groups Organized; Have Fine Objectives

Will Make Supplies For New Hospital And Will Put On a Sale Of Work In The Spring.

On Monday, October 14, the girls of the United Church Sunday School met to organize two groups of Canadian Girls in Training. The girls are very enthusiastic about their new club activities, and with the fine leadership of Mrs. Dr. W. N. McKee for the intermediates and Miss Mary McNeil and Miss Grace Pring for the juniors, there is promise of excellent training for all of them.

The unit trustees, who have chosen the name "The Good Companions," have for their officers: Beth Keay, president; Geraldine Sales, vice-president; Valma Keene, secretary; Gladys Smith, treasurer; Hilda Vader, industrial program leader; Leona Sales, sports leader; Dorothy Fildes, devotional leader; Wilhelmina George, social leader; Isabel Fildes, refreshments committee; Ruth Ferguson, visiting committee.

The program for Monday, October 28, features mainly a course of instruction in home nursing, to be given by Mrs. McKee.

On November 4 both groups come together in a Halloween party in the additions Hall, which, by the kindness of the local lodge, the clubs are being able to rent at a purely nominal rate.

The girls of the junior group, well named Sunbeams, were already busy on Saturday afternoon, selling candy, in order to provide themselves with suitable uniforms for the afternoon tea which they intend to serve to the public.

The main objectives of both clubs for the winter months are the making of supplies for the surgery of the new hospital and a sale of work in the spring in both of which projects will win them every success.

Great Season Of Hockey Expected During Winter

But Hockey Boys Have Lost Their Mid-Winter Batching Plan Through Improvement of Rink

When all efforts of the new Spirit River Hockey Club executive failed to find teams and implements for the enlarging of the skating rink in the school grounds, the high school principal, Mr. Badner, called out his man-power squad with spades, shovels and one slip—was the result that now the rink has been improved and is just about ready for the replacing of the fence.

Though some of the hockey players may be disappointed that the recent leveling of the rink bottom will deprive them of their mid-winter open-air bathing pool, we are sure that the majority of patrons will be glad to feel that much safer at the north side of the ice when our customary skates come along.

The club executive—Mr. K. Walden, president; Mr. N. J. Morris, vice-president; and Mr. Allen Morrison, secretary—team up with their rink grounds committee, made an early attempt at more extensive improvement in the rink, but found no horse or tractor-power available for the job. We recall, however, that even with the limited space last year, the rink provided a tremendous amount of healthful exercise and enjoyment, and we can look forward to a great season of skating and hockey this winter.

Wedding Bells
 KELLY-CASBERG
 A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday, October 16, at the United Church, Manse, Spirit River, when Miss Ruth Casberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Casberg of Berwyn, became the bride of Mr. Charles Joseph Kelly, also of Berwyn. Rev. Arthur Thorpe officiated.

INTERESTING SEASON OF BADMINTON EXPECTED
 Badminton is more or less fitfully under way, according to the vicar of the supplementary lighting plant, engine, temporarily installed for gay use with the regular plant can once more be got into operation. The prospects for a very interesting season of badminton this year, with a larger membership and a number of really keen players.

ALMOST RECORD CROWD AT L.A. CHICKEN SUPPER
 The Ladies' Aid of the United Church held their annual chicken supper in the Oddfellows Hall on Saturday, October 19, with almost a record of patronage, and with an abundance of good eats and good fellowship that would do credit to any organization.

RADIOPHOTO OF THE ITALIAN ADVANCE ON ETHIOPIAN BATTLE FRONT

A radiophoto from the Ethiopian war front shows Italian troops fighting their way through barbed wire entanglements near Aduwa, border town, which was captured. Aduwa was the scene of the crushing defeat suffered by the Italians 40 years ago. This picture was flown to Rome, telephoned to London, re-transmitted by radio to New York.

QUEEN WATCHES DUTCH ARMY MANOEUVRES

As the threat of war sweeps across Europe this picture of the Queen of Holland watching Dutch army manoeuvres is particularly interesting. Britain, France, Germany all have held extensive war manoeuvres in recent months and it would appear as if Holland, too, had caught the fever. The Queen is seen holding her ears as the guns roar over the countryside.

BRITAIN SCORES ANOTHER VICTORY ON NORTHWEST FRONTIER

While Ethiopia and Italy have been occupying the front pages of the news, British troops have been conducting a successful campaign against hostile tribes and seized the Nahakki Pass. The campaign was carried out by virtually all arms of the Indian Army, and this halftone picture shows light tanks moving out on a reconnaissance into Torataga Valley. These tanks were used for the first time in frontier warfare with conspicuous success. In the distance can be seen the Nahakki Ridge, which was held by hostile tribes which harassed the Torataga Valley until overcome in the recent campaign.

Mrs. Applegate is supposedly the victim of a plot perpetrated by Mrs. Creighton to enable her 15-year-old daughter, Ruth, to marry Applegate, with whom she had had illicit relations. Mrs. Creighton is also suspected of having poisoned her father-in-law, mother-in-law and her brother, all of whom died under mysterious circumstances. BOOK TALK

The Little Wench: by Philip Lindsay.

Philip Lindsay says in the dedication of this book that in the writing of it he was chiefly inspired by his reading of the life of Morris and his love for the Morris family.

The theme is King Arthur and his court, the Knights of the Round Table, Queen Guinevere and her ladies. Through it runs the story of the exploits of chivalry, the finer and baser passions of man, but above all the love of Sir Lancelot and Arthur's Queen, that love which broke up the fellowship of the Round Table and brought tragedy to Arthur's kingdom and death and suffering to many, and finally the agony of repentance of Lancelot and Guinevere.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

At all Christian Science churches next Sunday the subject of the lesson-sermon will be "Probation after Death." The following is one of the scriptures: "If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth; and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be." (Ecclesiastes 11:3.) One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is as follows (page 291): "In the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be." So we read in Ecclesiastes, "If the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be." As man falls asleep, so shall he awake. As death findeth mortal man, so shall he be after death until probation and growth shall effect the needed change."

PIPESTONE CREEK

TRADER DECIDES TO RETIRE

PIPESTONE CREEK, Oct. 23.—What might be described as a horrible knock to the profession was recently observed in a routine deal here. Vic Elford, well known as an estate trader, purchased a valuable sleigh dog from Louis Hawkes, the purchase price being a half share in the former's splendid potato crop. Upon being informed of the deal, Mrs. Hawkes stated that she would have gladly given the dog away. Mr. Elford, interviewed today, stated that he has decided to retire from the profession and spend the winter knitting.

CHRISTIAN PARTY

To celebrate the completion of their new quarters, known as "The Nest," Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Langston entertained a party of friends on Saturday night. Among those present were Ray Campbell, Tom Mitchell, Mrs. Campbell, W. Whitehead, and Mr. E. Elford. The celebration continued all the small hours.

SNOW WELCOMED

This little town was welcomed here as a sign that the weather will clear up in time to complete threshing. It's good for the corn business, too, and trappers are rejoicing, realizing that fur will soon be prime. Anyway, this temporary winter seems to give everyone a zest for travelling and numerous Sunday dinner visitors at Pipestone Creek included Messrs. Vic Elford, Bill Mercer, Jim Ryan, Don Kennedy, Carl Rogers, and Ray Carl Brooks, and Miss Gertrude Berg. A. Ahern was also seen on his way home after a visit to the ferry.

SHOOTS COYOTE

Further evidence that fur will be plentiful this winter was seen yesterday when Jim Ryan, who has been working hard with Ben Osborn, of Jensen's old place, shot a coyote from the door of the house.

MAY HAVE DUCK AT BEANFEAST

Comestible Cook of the R.C.M.P. has been away on holiday, the neighborhood has felt a little more lately and many visitors and natives have secured some splendid legs.

It's not a crime to shoot a duck on Sunday.

That intends to leave for the "C.A. on Monday."

It is hoped that a few of these ducks will find their way to the annual Thanksgiving dinner at the schoolhouse without necessitating the arrest of the secretary and other trustees.

After the supper, to be held on Saturday, October 26, Mr. Albright will give an illustrated lecture on "Pioneer Days." There is no charge, but a collection will be taken up for children's Christmas treat. The supper and lecture are sponsored by the Millerton W. L.

INDIAN KAKES RECOVERY; NOW 105 YEARS OLD

Old Stoney, who celebrates his 105th birthday today, is sleeping in the store. This morning looking for bacon.

On Friday evening there was a victim last August of a nasty accident when his nerve-bulder exploded, resulting in severing three fingers and blowing a hole through the palm of his hand. After the smash Stoney walked four miles to his tent close to the ferry, leaving a trail of blood where he received first aid from Mrs. Armstrong. Efforts to secure a kindly doctor failed and through the kindness of Mr. Mackenzie of Grande Prairie, who was visiting the river, Old Stoney was rushed to Dr. Carlisle.

Coming through here en route, Old Stoney received a shot of six aspirin tablets and three 200 pills, which in the opinion of medical experts would put an ordinary human to sleep for 48 hours. The only effect, however, was to make him so enjoy a pocket of cigarettes and a clear on the way to Wembley, where he was taken to hospital. The fifty cents a day cure there has had its beneficial effect and Old Stoney has become quite fit. Asked how he liked the nurses at the hospital, Stoney replied, "marmos" "good."

TRAPPERS LEAVING FOR THE BACKWOODS

Busy scenes here during the last few days when numerous trappers have been packing up for the trip home. Many who have been threshing, building and road-making lately are tired of waiting for the weather to clear up and are hitting for the bush. Included among those leaving are Henry McCub, Hugh Alfred Shuller, E. Stoney, V. Elford, J. Isbena, Adam Kenny, R. Savard, Jim Ryan, and Joe St. Arnaud.
